Overview of shareholder voting results

Key issues in shareholder voting from April to June 2021:

- We continue to vote in accordance with TMAM guidelines. We have also been investigating how individual companies are responding to the protracted Covid-19 pandemic.
- Our Responsible Investment Committee refers to recommendations provided by a proxy advisory firm in order to avoid any conflict of interest.

Shareholder voting and the pandemic

We continue to investigate how individual companies are responding to the protracted Covid-19 pandemic, and to reflect this in how we exercise our shareholder voting rights. We take into account earnings trends, management policy and response to the pandemic, balance sheet health, and other factors in careful consideration of each proposal.

We vote effectively based on a clear understanding of the situation in which investee companies find themselves, rather than a purely mechanical application of our voting guidelines.

Managing conflicts of interest

Where the exercise of voting rights may have an impact on our management due to capital ties, business relationships or other such reasons, we take advice from a proxy advisory firm and vote in accordance with the Responsible Investment Committee’s decisions in order to avoid any conflict of interest.

Where there is a potential conflict of interests, the Responsible Investment Committee considers the recommendation of a proxy advisory firm as its base case. Where such a recommendation is less rational than our own voting guidelines, however, or in certain cases where shareholder proposals need to be considered on their own merits, we may vote against such recommendations.

Proposals for investee companies where there is a potential conflict of interests are flagged as such in the full table of shareholder voting results, with rationale provided for exceptional decisions.

- Proposals with potential for conflicts of interest
- Proposals where unlawful or unethical behaviour has been detected

- Shareholder proposals where we considered TMAM guidelines

We will continue to use shareholder voting as a tool to request that the companies in which we invest address corporate governance in good faith and for the interest of beneficiaries.
